'RUNAWAY' HORSE KILLED IN ROAD HORROR

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

COUNCIL chiefs are being urged to crack down on the roadside tethering of horses in Harlow following an accident in which one of the animals was killed after charging out into rush-hour traffic.

The incident happened near the junction between Katherine's Way and Third Avenue at about 6pm on Tuesday when the horse broke free from its tether and ran into the road.

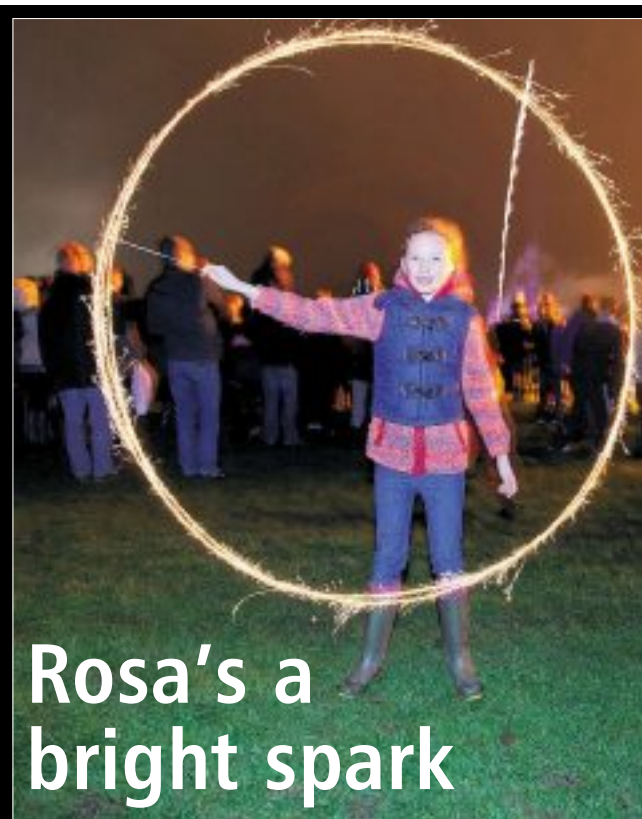

According to one eyewitness, who asked to remain anonymous, the animal was killed instantly after being hit by a Ford Focus, shattering the car's windscreen on impact and showering the male driver and female passenger with broken glass.

"We were driving in the opposite direction when we saw the accident happen," he told the Star. "The horse just charged out into the road and was hit by a car. There was no way the driver could have avoided it."

"It was pretty horrific. The animal had sustained terrible injuries and would have been killed instantly."

Police arrived on the scene shortly after the accident to close off the road as highways teams cleared the area of glass

Labour fury over hikes in fuel costs

Town prepares to pay tribute to The Fallen

THE sacrifice made by the men and women who gave their lives serving their country in armed conflicts across the globe will be honoured at remembrance services in Harlow this weekend.

Remembrance Sunday will be marked with a commemorative service at the Nettesswell Memorial Garden in Harlow Town Park. Standards will muster outside Burnt Mill School, in First Avenue, at 10.30am before marching down School Lane for the start of the service at 10.45am. Among those attending will be Harlow MP Robert Halfon, Harlow Council chairwoman Maggie Hulcoop and other local dignitaries.

An Armistice Day service organised by the League of Gentlemen 95 will also be taking place at the same time at the war memorial on Harlow Common.

The group will be joined by the congregation from St Mary Magdalene Church in Potter Street for the 10.30am service, which will also see the laying of the Burma Star Association standard.

A bugle player from a military re-enactment group in Essex will then play the Last Post before the group marches back to the church.

Later the same day the Harlow branch of the Royal British Legion will be staging a remembrance service and concert at The Playhouse featuring the Harlow Concert Band.

The event begins at 7.30pm and tickets cost £6, with all proceeds going to the RBL's Poppy Appeal.

Meeting on Black Run rescheduled

A PUBLIC meeting on the future of an alleyway in Old Orchard which residents claim is a magnet for anti-social behaviour has been rescheduled for November 17.

Harlow Council had originally arranged the meeting for October 20 but it was postponed as a mark of respect following last month's tragic house fire in nearby Barn Mead.

It will now take place next Saturday in the dining room of the Latton Bush Centre in Southern Way, starting at 2.30pm.

The forum will give residents the chance to tell councillors why they want the footpath – known locally as the 'Black Run' – closed for good.

New hotel opens

A NEW hotel in Harlow town centre opened for business this week.

Work on the Holiday Inn Express, in Crown Gate, was finally completed earlier this week following months of delays.

Aimed primarily at business travellers, the no-frills hotel boasts 122 bedrooms, a bar and conferencing facilities.

A separate retail unit on the ground floor currently remains empty, but developers are hoping to attract a major high-street restaurant or café chain.

LABOUR parliamentary hopeful for Harlow Suzy Stride this week accused the Government of failing to protect struggling households from spiralling gas and electricity costs.

Ms Stride said ministers were "dithering" on policy while families on low incomes and pensioners struggling to were left facing some of the biggest-ever hikes in energy prices.

"Domestic fuel poverty is a real problem in Harlow, with many people I talk to worrying about how they are going to pay their winter fuel bills," she told the Star.

"Hard-pressed families and businesses need more transparency on costs, pricing and profits to know whether they're getting a fair deal, but this Tory-led Government isn't taking action to protect struggling households and vulnerable customers from being ripped off."

Ms Stride said she was urging residents to sign up to her party's 'Switch Together' campaign – a collective energy-switching scheme encouraging groups of householders to club together to negotiate better deals with energy firms.

"I'd urge everyone to sign up," she said. "There's no obligation to accept anything if it's not cheaper than your current deal, but the more people who sign up the more likely it is we can get a deal that helps households cut their costs over winter."

One resident who has already signed up is pensioner

FUELLING ANGER: Peter Waite shows Suzy Stride is latest gas bill

Peter Waite, of Taylifers.

He said: "Last year the Government reduced the planned winter fuel payment from £250 to £200 for pensioners, and British Gas has just announced they are going to increase my bill."

"If we have a cold winter, I don't know how I am going to be able to afford to keep my flat warm."

But Harlow MP Robert Halfon insisted the Government was working hard to help protect the elderly and vulnerable from rising energy prices.

"We are giving pensioners the highest pension increase ever since 1948 – an extra £5 a week – and we are offering low-income families in Harlow and the elderly £130 pounds this winter, plus the cold weather payment and winter fuel allowance," he said.

"There is also the Green

Deal, which will help every single Harlow household get free energy improvements including double-glazing and insulation.

"Finally, the Prime Minister has promised tough new laws to force energy companies to give their customers the lowest prices. I would urge everyone reading this to go today to log on to www.gov.uk to see how they can benefit from the Government's action."

Mr Halfon added that Labour leader Ed Miliband's recent pledge to "decarbonise" the UK electricity grid would hit all residents in the pocket.

"Labour's plan is to tax everyone in Harlow an extra £120 to pay for their expensive wind farm policy," he said. "I believe this would be a mistake. We need cheaper electricity and gas, just like we need cheaper petrol."

Motorist dies in m-way accident

A HARLOW man died after his car careered off the M11 and plunged down an embankment on Sunday morning.

The accident happened at 7am on the southbound carriageway of the motorway between junctions six and seven.

Firefighters used specialist cutting equipment to free the 45-year victim – who has not yet been named by police – from the wreckage of the black BMW 318 but he was pronounced dead at the scene.

Officers said it is believed he lost control of the car before it left the road and overturned as it landed at the bottom of the embankment. No other vehicles were involved.

A section of the southbound carriageway was closed for more than four hours while investigations and recovery work took place.

Police have appealed for anyone who witnessed the accident to contact the Serious Collision Investigation Unit on 101 or email collisionappeal@essex.pnn.police.uk.

Berecroft teens honoured at awards ceremony

THREE teenagers from Harlow have received Young Achiever Awards in recognition of their work in the community.

Stuart Marrington and cousins Lewis and Connor Fry – all of Berecroft – were presented with their Community Spirit Awards at a ceremony hosted by housing association South Anglia at the Manor Of Groves Hotel in High Wych.

They were commended for running football training sessions in their neighbourhood and being excellent role models for the youngsters who attend.

They have also set up a Facebook page for young people, giving advice and information and encouraging friendship.

Berecroft Residents' Association chairman Zulqar Cheema, who also picked up an award for his community work on the estate, said he was extremely proud of the trio.

"Berecroft residents are extremely appreciative of what these young lads are doing to try and make our neighbourhood a better place to live," he said. "They have shown great commitment and determination and put in a lot of hard work for the benefit of other local youngsters and I'm pleased they've been rewarded for their efforts."

Caroline Kaldani, assistant director of access and customer care at South Anglia, added: "Lewis, Connor and Stuart have gone the extra mile to make a difference and have had a really positive impact on their community."

Online radio station given studio grant

YOUNGSTERS dreaming of becoming the broadcasting stars of tomorrow will have the opportunity to hone their skills at a new community radio station based in Harlow town centre.

Hawks Radio is looking to construct a purpose-built training studio in Little Walk after receiving a £3,400 grant from the Stansted Airport Community Fund.

It will give schoolchildren and unemployed youngsters the chance to learn more about radio production, presenting and promotion and will also be used to train entrants into the online station's soon-to-be-launched Young Presenter of the Year competition.

Station boss Steve Ray, a former chairman of Harlow Town Football Club, said: "This is a massive boost towards fulfilling our vision for work in the community. We cannot thank the Stansted Community Fund enough for understanding the importance of what we are doing."

Marcella M'Rabety, Stansted Airport's corporate social responsibility manager, added: "The fund supports projects which help young people to learn new skills, to gain confidence and self-esteem and this scheme is a perfect example of these objectives."

Cancer tot's parents planning pink party

A PINK party to raise money for a charity supporting families of children with cancer will take place at a Harlow nightclub later this month.

The fundraiser has been organised by the parents of toddler Ava McCarthy (2), of Felmongers, who was recently diagnosed with a rare form of kidney cancer.

Ava is currently undergoing intensive chemo and radiotherapy treatment at Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge after doctors found the disease had spread to her lymph nodes.

The party, which is being held at Seen in The Rows on November 18 starting at 1pm, will feature dance performances and other live entertainment during the afternoon as well as face-painting, a children's disco and group games.

Proceeds will be split between The Children's Cancer and Leukaemia Group, Dolphin Ward at Princess Alexandra Hospital and C2 Ward at Addenbrooke.

Tickets cost £5 for adults and £3 for children. For more information, call Kerry on 07739 713526.

Hospice lottery draw

Foodbank in £5,000 appeal to buy a van

By BIANCA CASTRO
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

A CHARITY which provides emergency food parcels to cash-strapped residents has appealed for public support in its attempts to raise enough money to buy a new delivery van.

Harlow Foodbank, which currently relies on transport provided by volunteers to collect and distribute donations of food, needs a dedicated delivery vehicle in order to expand its services in the new year.

Gary Knott, the charity's director of community services, said acquiring a van would make a vast difference to its work, but first it must raise several thousands of pounds.

"It would help regularise our deliveries and collections as well as easing the entire process," he said.

"Ideally we'd like to raise £5,000. Insurance and other things are very expensive but hopefully we will have a new van by the early part of 2013."

"We are looking to start up a new service next April where we will be able to help nearby towns and villages that need us."

Up to September the foodbank had provided just over 6,000 people with emergency food and provisions since

HELPING HANDS:

it opened in April 2009.

It currently supports 170 people each month and needs over 1.6 tonnes of food to meet an increasing demand for its services. The bulk of its donations comes from the public and businesses in Harlow and the surrounding area. The charity, which relies on an army of around 60 volunteers, also works with several other organisations including churches, schools and supermarkets.

According to Gary, the main reasons people turn to the foodbank are delays in receiving benefits, cuts in wages, debt, unemployment and domestic violence.

"We continue to provide much-needed support to local people who find themselves in crisis, often through no fault of their own," he added.

To help Harlow Foodbank reach its £5,000 target, visit the website at www.mrcf.org.uk/foodbank.

Pizza thief attacks delivery driver with glass bottle

DETECTIVES are appealing for witnesses after a pizza delivery worker was attacked and robbed in Harlow.

The 24-year-old victim was assaulted outside Nicholls Field Tower as he was trying to make a delivery shortly before 1am on Sunday, October 28.

When he realised he was in the wrong place he headed back to his car but was confronted by a man wielding a glass bottle.

The attacker used the bottle to hit him in the face – causing severe damage to his teeth and cuts to his head – before grabbing the pizza and running away.

The victim was treated at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Detective Constable Sarah-Louise Austin, who is investigating the incident, said: "We're appealing for witnesses to the actual assault but also to a group of four people – two men and two women – in the block of flats.

"They had originally let the delivery man into the building when he couldn't gain access. They are not suspects but rather key witnesses. We urge them to contact us."

The assailant is described as white and of slim build. He was wearing jeans and a dark jacket with a white hoodie, the hood of which had been pulled tight around his head to obscure his face.

Anyone with information about the robbery should contact detectives at Harlow police station on the 101 non-emergency number or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Homes raided in blitz on burglars

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

THREE people have been charged with offences of burglary and theft following police raids on 19 properties in Harlow.

Officers executed search warrants at addresses across the town on Friday as part of a countywide burglary crackdown code-named Operation Nemesis.

Six people were arrested and a number of suspected stolen items were recovered.

Three of the six were subsequently charged and held in police custody prior to appearances at Chelmsford Magistrates' Court on Saturday.

Detective Superintendent Glenn Mal-eary, of Essex Police, said Operation Nemesis – which was launched in August this year – would continue to target burglary suspects to "keep the pressure on" offenders.

"There has been a significant rise in burglaries across the county and Harlow has unfortunately seen a number of offences being committed," he said.

"This operation is targeting those people who steal, burgle and handle stolen goods. The aim of the operation is to bring offenders to justice, recover stolen items and to gain further intelligence about who is involved in these crimes.

"I would appeal to the public in the local area to pass information on to the police if they know who is involved."

He added: "These operations will cause disruption but we will continue to keep the pressure on the offenders and those who work with them or cover for them, in order to protect the local, hard working community."

● A 24-year-old unemployed man was charged with one count of theft of satellite navigation equipment from a car. A 19-year-old man and a 15-year-old boy were charged with separate burglary offences.

The three others arrested – a 16-year-old boy, a 24-year-old woman and a 21-year-old man – were released on police bail until December 21 pending further enquiries.

A REAL-life Rapunzel from Harlow has sacrificed her flowing locks to raise money for seriously-ill children.

Shelby Paterson (5) of Perry Spring, had her waist-length hair cut for the first time on Wednesday.

She then donated her tresses to the Little Princess Trust, a charity providing wigs for youngsters who have lost their own hair through chemotherapy.

The Potter Street Primary School pupil also raised more than £600 in sponsorship money for The Rainbow Trust, which supports families with children suffering from life-limiting illnesses.

Proud parents Christine and Colin said their daughter was "an inspiration".

"She's a little angel; we're incredibly proud of what she's done," said Christine.

"Hopefully she will inspire other youngsters to come up with fundraising ideas to help those less fortunate than themselves.

"We'd like to say a big thank you to everyone who donated sponsorship money, to the school for helping us arrange the event and to hairdresser Gemma Bratley for cutting Shelby's hair. She loves her new look!"

Headteacher Tim West added: "The whole school are really proud of Shelby. She took the whole experience in her stride!"

and removed the dead animal, causing major tailbacks in both directions.

The driver and passenger of the Ford Focus were unhurt.

Officers were yesterday (Wednesday) attempting to contact the owner of the horse, which is believed to have belonged to a member of the town's travelling community.

Another witness, who was travelling behind the car when it struck the horse, added: "It was carnage. I've seen a few stories in the Star recently about the problems caused by tethered horses in the town; surely now something will have to be done."

According to Harlow Council, the tethering of horses is currently only permitted on Harlow Common, Latton Common and several purpose-built paddocks, meaning the animal killed in Tuesday's accident should not have been chained up at the roadside in the first place.

However, it is believed the land in question is in fact owned by Essex County Council, although the authority could not confirm its ownership as the Star went to press yesterday evening.

An ECC spokeswoman said the incident was now the subject of an internal investigation. "We were sorry to hear about the incident in which a horse was killed," she added.

Six in fight to become police commissioner

VOTERS in Harlow go the polls next week to elect Essex's first police and crime commissioner.

Thursday's election will mark a fundamental change in the way the county is policed, with the successful candidate bearing ultimate responsibility for setting priorities for the Essex force, overseeing the budget and hiring the chief constable.

According to the Government the new American-style system will make local police forces more accountable to the communities they serve while giving the public a greater say in their day-to-day running.

But critics claim they are expensive and unnecessary, and have warned that turnouts for the election could be the lowest in British history.

VOTERS living in the Toddbrook ward in Harlow will go to the polls next Thursday in a by-election caused by the resignation of Labour councillor Bob Davis.

A total of four candidates will battle it out for Mr Davis's former seat.

Christine O'Dell (Labour) will be hoping to retain it for Labour but faces opposition from Clive Souter (Conservative), Roy Jackson (Liberal Democrats) and Bill Pryor (UKIP).

Polling stations will be open from 7am until 10pm.

A total of six candidates have put themselves forward for the role in Essex, with Conservative, Labour, UKIP and English Democrats hopefuls lining up alongside two independents in the ballot.

The results should be known by next Friday, with the new commissioner assuming office on November 22 at the start of a four-year term.

The commissioner can only be elected for two consecutive terms and will be held to account by a panel made up of councillors representing Essex County Council and each district and unitary authority in the county, plus two independent members.

Registered voters in Harlow should have already received their polling cards and will be able to cast their votes at polling stations across the town from 7am until 10pm.

THE CANDIDATES FOR ESSEX

Nick Alston (Conservative)

The son of a police officer, Mr Alston served in the Royal Navy for nearly 30 years in operational defence and security before moving into the private sector.

He lives in Chelmsford and is a member of the Advisory Board of the Jill Dando Institute of Security and Crime Science at University College London.

"Born into an Essex police family and having worked alongside senior police in the UK and overseas all my career on security and defence operations, I have the skills, experience and passion for Essex to make a real difference in this challenging new role," he said.

"I have lived all over the county and raised our family here. I also have business experience as security director of a major global firm.

"My ambition is not only to challenge and support Essex Police on behalf of everyone in Essex, but also to help reconnect the police with the public they serve."

Val Morris-Cook (Labour)

Labour's candidate is the deputy leader of Thurrock Council. She lives in Grays with her husband and three sons.

Ms Morris-Cook is general manager of a logistics firm and has experience of working in retail, sales and charitable organisations.

"I will show how together we can reduce crime by being community focused and deploying my business acumen," she said.

"As the face of Essex Police I will listen and respond to people's anxieties and be open to finding new ways to deal with crime in an environment when there is growing pressure on resources.

"I will work closely with our partners to tackle crime, put victims at the heart of the police strategy, put police at the heart of the community, be open to new technologies and techniques to tackle crime, and ensure that reduction of crime is included on every planning, housing, health and education decision made in Essex."

Andrew Smith (UKIP)

A finance director, Mr Smith lives in Epping and has worked for various Lloyd's brokers.

"I have lived in Essex all my adult life, where my children were born and raised," he said.

"Experience of business at all levels means I can build a constructive relationship with Essex Police. My professional skills will be invaluable in getting best value out of a shrinking budget.

"I would work for the changes the public say they want: more police officers including more special constables rather than PCSOs, community-based officers in local police houses, local people to have more say in local policing priorities and no soft treatment of police misdemeanours.

"I want Essex police to be trusted and refocus on the side of the householder and victims. No-one but those engaged in criminal or anti-social activity should be fearful of the police."

Robin Tilbrook (Eng Democrat)

Mr Tilbrook founded the English National Party in 1997 before relaunching it as the English Democrats in 2002.

He has since stood as a candidate in local, Parliamentary and European elections. He has worked in a factory, in junior management and as a teacher at primary and secondary level. He lives and works as a solicitor in Willingale, Ongar.

"If elected I shall maintain the policing budget for Essex and resist Conservative ministers' plans to cut the budget by 15 per cent," he said.

"This would lead to a disastrous loss of over 350 constables and, therefore, reduce our police force's capability to catch criminals and maintain law and order in Essex.

"I shall insist upon a zero tolerance attitude on the part of Essex Police to petty crime and anti-social behaviour, which blights so many of our communities. It is criminals that should be afraid, not good citizens."

Linda Belgrove (Independent)

A legal support worker, Ms Belgrove lives in a village in the Tendring district.

For the past four years she has served as an independent member of Essex Police Authority and is founder and chairman of the Essex Retired Police Dogs Fund.

"I believe politics must be kept out of policing," she said. "I proved my independence and proactive abilities while serving as an independent member of Essex Police Authority, latterly as vice chair.

"I support neighbourhood policing. People want police in their towns and villages, who know their patch. It must not be a response-only service.

"Volunteers are pivotal in the fight against crime and I will support effective voluntary groups. I will ensure the criminal justice system meets the needs of our communities by developing new methods of consultation, not exclusively internet-based. I will be open, transparent and accessible."

Mick Thwaites (Independent)

Mr Thwaites was born in Yorkshire and has served with the City of London, Metropolitan and Essex police forces.

In 2000 he was appointed divisional commander for Southend-on-Sea and in 2002 temporary Assistant Chief Constable for Essex. On retiring in 2009 his rank was chief superintendent and he was head of road policing.

"It is clear to me the people of Essex don't want politics deciding policing priorities, they do want to see cops on our streets," he said.

"They want the police to turn up when they call them and take their problems seriously in order to make their lives better. They don't want to become victims, but when they are they want to be supported.

"They want less crime and they don't want their lives blighted by anti-social behaviour.

"I will bring 34 years of real experience working in policing and criminal justice in order to make Essex safer."

15,000 enjoy an explosive night out

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Town Park was banging on Sunday night as more than 15,000 people headed to the Showground for bonfire night celebrations.

A spectacular 20-minute fireworks and laser display was the highlight of the evening's entertainment, which also included the Heart radio roadshow and a fun fair. The event was co-organised by Harlow Council and Great Parndon Community Association.

Council chairwoman Maggie Hulcoop was joined by the cast of this year's Playhouse panto, Jack & The Beanstalk, to light the bonfire as crowds gathered in anticipation of the main event.

Councillor Jean Clark, portfolio holder for community & social inclusion, said: "It was a bitterly cold night but the celebrations and the fantastic fireworks display really helped warm up people's spirits."

"It is always great to see so many local families coming out and enjoying this occasion in the park. Harlow's fireworks display is one of the biggest in the area and there are not many these days which are also free to attend."

She added: "I would like to say a huge thanks to council staff, David Shimmen from Great Parndon Community Association and volunteers who worked hard all day in the rain to make sure that this popular event took place."

1 FORE STREET, OLD HARLOW, ESSEX CM17 0AA

SIR, The Friends of Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice were shocked to learn through the Star that the town's elected Labour councillors had, without first informing the trustees or staff, decided to abandon a service which a few short months ago it had pledged loudly and publicly to support.

Advice centre staff attempting to deal with existing cases are now in a state of siege. Telephones have been cut off and cleaning and other services withdrawn, although HWRA's monthly payments to the council were up to date at the time.

A campaign is now under way to save this nationally-respected service and the Friends of HWRA is inviting support from local organisations and voluntary agencies, as well as from those who have found help and support from the service over the years.

A positive way forward is a reality if the will is there. With encouragement from the community, the council's cabinet members who make the decisions can think again on the implications of their current actions.

Letters, telephone calls and e-mails to councillors over the next few days will show elected representatives that they should not throw away nearly 40 years of service to the town and at the same time lose hundreds of thousands of pounds the service brings into Harlow every year.

Sadly time is fast running out for the service. Councillors' contact details are available on the council's website and in paper version from the Civic Centre.

Mag Barrett, Friends of HWRA
address supplied

Need for this service is the real scandal

SIR, I do not know enough about the inner workings of the Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice Service to comment on the present situation. However, I would like to issue with some of Cllr Tony Hall's statements (Letters, November 1).

He resurrects the old canard about Harlow having the highest council tax in the country. This was always a good example of lies, damned lies and statistics.

Support from the community can help save advice centre

Photo of the week

THIS photograph of a brightly coloured mushroom was taken by reader Katie Bradford at Latton Common.

"It was taken in late October and is of a fly agaric fungi," she writes. According to the website www.uksafari.com, the fly agaric is found throughout the UK and is usually seen between the months of September and November.

● Do you have a photo taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it. Email a high resolution copy in jpeg format along with a brief description of your photo, when and where it was taken and your name and address to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

Surely in these days when people are struggling with all sorts of problems, it would be better to help people in the town by giving help and advice instead of holding the annual fireworks display.

I have enjoyed the fireworks for many years but I feel the money could now be spent more wisely.

Brian Hood
Brockles Mead, Harlow

Court will decide if I broke undertakings

SIR, Your report ("Lawyer back in court over McCann claims", November 1) omitted to state the key element of my defence against claims I broke court undertakings.

As is widely known the original senior detective in the case, Dr Goncalo Amaral, published a book in 2008 setting out his views on the case. It's a book on which I base my views of what happened.

It's also widely known that the McCanns successfully banned his book at court hearings in September 2009 and January 2010 in Lisbon.

But what is not so well known is that the ban on Dr Amaral's book was lifted by the Portuguese Appeal Court in October 2010. The McCanns appealed unsuccessfully to the Portuguese Supreme Court against the ban in March 2011.

These two courts were very clear: they said it was a breach of his rights to freedom of expression and speech under Article 10 of the European Convention on Human Rights to continue the ban on his book.

So his book has been on sale again in Portugal for over two years. But much more than that, his book has been translated into nine European languages and has sold a million copies in over two dozen countries.

The current position is that people in Britain can't read Dr Amaral's book in English because no publisher will take the risk of publishing it so long as Britain retains its oppressive libel laws.

Finally, it was not correct to state that three of the 16 undertakings I gave to the McCanns and the court have been broken. That remains for the court to decide after they have heard my defence.

Tony Bennett
Chippingfield, Old Harlow

Town residents should be the first priority

SIR, As a resident of Harlow for some 50 years and with two children who have never been able to even get a sniff at a housing waiting list, I find it odd that our councillors are not vociferously objecting to Epping Forest Council's proposed development of 1,250 properties at West Summers.

None of these will take one person off Harlow's waiting list, or contribute to council tax or rateable value, but will use up finite capacity at the Roydon Mead sewage works.

Once this capacity has been used up, brownfield sites within Harlow – i.e. Clifton Hatch, Prentice Place, Passmores School – which would take Harlow residents off the waiting list, could be in jeopardy.

Why are they not putting their constituents' needs and aspirations over those of our neighbouring district?

Epping's own planning proposal has highlighted key infrastructure and sewage capacity as strategic constraints to further development, and development within Harlow may make West Summers unsustainable.

Conversely, any development within West Summers may make development elsewhere in Harlow unsustainable.

Bob Gray, chairman
Summers & Katherine's Residents' Association

being, and the means to produce those goods and services.

Quantitative easing, the bailing out of the banks which caused the financial crisis, is simply the creation of more money by electronic means rather than old-fashioned printing of money. But instead of circulating and thereby helping to stimulate the economy, it has mostly stayed in banks' coffers. The UK remains one of the richest countries in the world. It is the unequal distribution of that wealth that causes many of the problems.

That so many of its citizens are in need of welfare rights advice and that so many depend on food banks is the real scandal. Changing the economic policies that lead to that situation is the way forward, not arguing about whose fault it is for HWRA's difficulties.

Frank Jackson
Kingsmoor Road, Harlow

The demand for help is greater than ever

SIR, I am very disturbed to read in the Star that Harlow Council is threatening the future of the welfare rights service.

I was involved in helping to set up the service many years ago and have seen the important work it has done over the years in helping individuals and families get their rights and bringing millions of pounds into Harlow.

At a time when the Government is intent on cutting back the social security system, its services are going to be needed more than ever. I find it rather surprising that this decision is being taken by a Labour council. I would appeal to them to reflect again before endangering this valuable service.

Fireworks cash could be put to better use

SIR, I read in the Star that Harlow Council is withdrawing funding for the Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice Service.

Flytipper landed with £3,000 bill

A CONTRACTOR who was paid £30 to remove household rubbish from a property in Harlow has been hit with a bill for £3,000 after being found guilty of flytipping.

Adam Southall (26), of The Hornbeams, was convicted by a jury at Chelmsford Crown Court of controlling the waste and causing it to be dumped one or about March 19, 2010. He denied the charge.

The court was told that clothing, bed linen, paperwork and general waste, left by a tenant at a house in Milwards, Harlow, was removed by Southall.

He told Sanjit Alangh, director of a lettings agency, that he planned to burn it but months later it turned up in a field off Weald Hall Lane, Thornwood, among a number black bin bags of dumped rubbish.

The jury heard that Mr Alangh turned up at the property in time to see Southall and another man loading the last few bags onto a pick-up truck.

He was later contacted by an environmental neighbourhoods officer working for Epping Fire District Council who told him rubbish from the property in Milwards had been dumped at Weald Hall Lane, along with other unconnected items.

The court was told Mr Alangh subsequently pleaded guilty at magistrates court to failing to obtain a waste transfer note from Southall, an offence for which he was fined £900.

Southall claimed he refused to clear the house when asked by the landlord's managing agent because he did not have the right sort of licence, but offered to take away recyclable items such as clothes and shoes as a favour.

He said he did not ask for the £30 or supply an invoice and disposed of the clothes in a supermarket recycling bin.

Southall was found guilty of the charge. He was fined £735 and ordered to pay costs of £2,265.

Passing sentence, Judge Christopher Ball told him: "It's a great pity you didn't take it on the chin like Mr Alangh. You have wasted everyone's time coming here and there's a price to pay."

He added: "We know what an absolute pain this dumping is by people who can't be bothered to go down the tip."

Road grit stocks at full capacity as county prepares for winter

HIGHWAYS chiefs at Essex County Council are reassuring motorists they are ready for winter as the cold snap begins to bite.

The authority's fleet of 60 gritters are on standby and salt stocks are now back at full capacity, with 14,000 tonnes available to keep the county's road network moving.

The council is also giving greater control to local communities with its winter salt bag scheme. Some 160 participating town and parish councils will receive one tonne of salt, packaged in 20kg bags, for use on areas of the highway which cause most concern in icy conditions.

Councillor Derrick Louis, cabinet member for highways & transportation said: "Keeping our roads safe throughout winter is always one of our top priorities and we have made sure that our gritting stocks are back at full capacity for the start of the season."

All the council's gritting lorries have been fitted with GPS trackers, allowing residents to follow their movements in real-time via a live map which can be viewed online at www.essex.gov.uk/winter.

Happy Hallowe'en – fright night celebrations are a real scream!

LITTLE monsters enjoyed a spook-tacular evening of fun and games at a Hallowe'en party.

More than 60 youngsters dressed up as witches, warlocks and vampires for the Berecroft estate's annual community fright-fest, taking time out from trick or treating to play games including apple-bobbing, wrap the mummy and musical statues.

They also sunk their teeth into toffee apples and home-baked biscuits during the party, which was organised by Berecroft Residents' Association.

Chairman Zulqar Cheema said: "We had a great turnout and all the kids really enjoyed dressing up and playing the party games."

"Events like these are really worthwhile as they help the whole community to come together. It's great to see people from the estate getting together and making new friends - not just the kids, but the grown-ups, too!"

The courage of the 'hero of Holloway'

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Moot House

REGULAR readers will know that Moot House recently celebrated its 60th anniversary since being transformed into Harlow's first dedicated community centre.

But few will realise just how many community groups have made use of the building's facilities during those six decades. According to Mark Hall & Netteswell Community Association member Alain Fournier, the number exceeds 150 – with several of the centre's first patrons still meeting there regularly to this day.

In a bid to help piece together the post-war history of the building, Alain has provided Nostalgia with a fascinating selection of photographs from the MHNCA archives and hopes readers can help to fill in the blanks!

The first photo, top right, shows members of a tenants' social club playing a bizarre game in the centre's Ladyshot Common Room in the early 1950s.

"I am not sure exactly what is happening in this photograph," said Alain. "The participants seem to be engaged in some kind of race where they must flip something over. Whatever it is, it certainly looks as though they are having a lot of fun!"

Another bunch clearly having fun are early members of the MHNCA itself shown, above, in 1953 as they prepare to fire arrows at a pumpkin balanced on the head of one of their braver pals. "I think this one is more self-explanatory but it would be nice to know if anyone recognises any of the people in either picture," Alain added. ● Were you a member of one of the many community groups to have used Moot House over the past 60 years? WAR HERO: George, middle, with brothers Joseph, left, and Alf

As the nation prepares to remember the sacrifice of the men and women who have lost their lives while serving their country as members of the Armed Forces, Nostalgia reflects on the courage of one young soldier decorated for an act of heroism during the First World War.

Reader Lucy Crumb (78), of Broadfields, Harlow, contacted the Star to tell the story of her uncle, George Tedder – the 'Holloway Hero'.

As a young private in the 2nd Battalion Royal Fusiliers, George made the front page of the Daily Gazette in September 1918 after being awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal and Croix de Guerre for "conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty".

"My mother had kept a typed copy of the article and when I stumbled across it I sent off for a reproduction of the original newspaper," said Mrs Crumb, who moved to Harlow in 1956, "I couldn't believe it when I saw the front page headline calling my uncle the 'Holloway Hero'. His act of bravery obviously caused quite a stir at the time!"

According to the newspaper article, Private Tedder ran into the enemy as he and a comrade were trying to deliver supplies to a frontline post in the dead of night. But instead of panicking, he immediately attacked one of the enemy soldiers, managing to wrestle his rifle away before capturing the entire patrol.

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

George, who was just 26 years old at the time and was one of five brothers in the Armed Forces, had already served in the Army for eight years and received the Mons Star campaign medal after serving in France following the outbreak of the war in 1914.

"It's incredible to think that he was just 26 years old when he did this, it really puts things into perspective," said Mrs Crumb. "How many youngsters today could even imagine facing up to that kind of responsibility?"

The article goes on to state that children at the school in Holloway which George attended as a boy were given a half-day holiday in honour of his act of bravery.

"It would have been a very big thing for children to have been given half the day off back then," she added. "It shows just how much George's contribution meant to his community."

"I just think it's so important that we continue to remember those people who bravely served their country. Without their sacrifices, life now would be very different indeed."

'Stunning' new chapel is centrepiece of crem refurb

A NEW chapel, water garden, glazed archway and improved landscaping are among the new features at Harlow's Parndon Wood Cemetery and Crematorium following the completion of a major refurbishment project.

Work started on site in July following consultations with the public, funeral directors and members of the clergy.

The revamp was overseen by private operator Westerleigh, which took over management of the service last year on 25-year lease.

The deal, under which Harlow Council retained ownership of the facilities, paved the way for £3m-worth of much-needed investment over the next 25 years. Two new cremators and emissions control equipment will be installed in the "near future".

Westerleigh managing director Richard Evans said: "Parndon Wood is a wonderful natural setting and we think that the new design should help the building blend into the landscape of the surrounding woodland.

"We are also really pleased with the final finish of the chapel and are delighted with the very positive reaction we have had from funeral directors, ministers and bereaved families.

"Ultimately all of the disruption and cost is worthwhile when you see the difference it makes to people at a very difficult time."

Cllr Jon Clempner, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for the Environment, said: "The stunning new chapel has made a big difference to Parndon Wood and taken the service into the 21st century. The building work and improvements over the last four months has created a modern facility whilst retaining the tranquil and dignified environment where people say farewell to their loved ones."

Cllr Tony Hall, who was portfolio holder for environment in the Conservative-run administration when the contract was signed, added: "We are pleased that the project has gone well and is a demonstration of the fact that the administration made the right decision when deciding to find an outside partner to invest in and run the facility.

"However, it is ironic the Labour Party, which openly opposed this project and even attempted to have the decision reversed in the scrutiny committee just over a year ago, is now just as openly bathing in the glory of its success."

NEW LOOK:

The completed programme of refurbishment

- A complete refurbishment of the chapel, office and all public areas
- The creation of a more open, light chapel with large bay windows on both sides overlooking the nearby woodland and a new hedged garden complete with water feature
- A glazed, arched roof which forms the centre piece of the new entrance to the chapel
- A new overspill car park to relieve congestion and improve the circulation of traffic
- An enlarged area for mourners to congregate after the funeral and view floral tributes. The area is covered with a modern canopy and the adjoining roadways widened to provide a private exit route for funeral cars
- Extra and enhanced landscaping around the chapel, floral tribute area and crematorium complex as a whole

Ready, Jedi . . . go!

IT has been seven years since the last Star Wars film opened in cinemas - but now comes news that has got fans of the series dusting off their lightsabres and jumping for joy.

For Luke Skywalker, Darth Vader and Yoda are set to return to the big screen in 2015 with another helping of space adventures in a galaxy far, far away.

When the first film - Star Wars: A New Hope - was released way back in 1977 it was described by critics as the best science fiction movie of all time.

Two more followed - The Empire Strikes Back in 1980 and The Return of The Jedi in 1983. Together they formed the middle trio of what was planned to be a nine-film series.

Director George Lucas kept his promise by making the first three in the series - The Phantom Menace, Attack Of The Clones and Revenge of The Sith - which were released in 1999, 2002 and 2005.

But then he said there would be no more films and fans were left wondering what would become of the characters that they had come to love.

Now he has sold the rights to the Star Wars franchise to the Disney empire which has announced it will be releasing the next instalment - episode seven - in 2015 with episodes eight and nine to follow after that.

Explaining his decision to sell to Disney, Mr Lucas said: "It's now time for me to pass Star Wars on to a new generation of film-makers."

My Darling Husband Ron
We walked the road together,
Bore the ups and downs of life.
The loveliest of all the days,
Was when you made me your Wife.
You are in a place of beauty,
Where pain and suffering cease.
You always showed so much courage,
I know you're now at peace.
So one day I will join you,
And a road again we'll start.
Until then my dearest darling,
You'll be forever in my heart.
Your ever loving Wife Jean.

MP adds his voice to ambulance concerns

CHARLES WALKER

By GEMMA GARDNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN MP has described the performance of the East of England Ambulance NHS Trust as "shocking".

Charles Walker, whose Broomfield constituency neighbours Harlow, said he had no confidence in those running the trust, which serves Essex, Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire, Norfolk and Suffolk.

And he has called for an urgent debate following union concerns that budget cuts were putting patients at risk.

Speaking in the House of Commons, Mr Walker said: "I am in no doubt that the performance of the chairman, and the chief executive, Hayden Newton, is falling well short of acceptable."

Mr Walker's comments come in the wake of growing concern about the performance of the ambulance service, highlighted by two incidents in Harlow reported in the Star.

In the first, witnesses to a road accident in which a pedal cyclist died claimed it took more than half-

Anger at ambulance 'delay' after 999 call

FLASHBACK: Star, September 13

an-hour for an ambulance to arrive on the scene, despite the fact Princess Alexandra Hospital is less than a mile from the scene.

A spokesman for the ambulance service later revealed the 999 call had been graded as serious but not life-threatening.

In the second incident, an elderly woman who suffered a broken hip after falling in the Water Gardens car park had to wait two hours for an ambulance.

Mr Walker said concerns needed to be addressed urgently.

Former health secretary Andrew Lansley replied: "The East of England Ambulance Service Trust, like other ambulance trusts across this country, have for the first time, all of them, met all of their category A response times."

"But it is very important that they continue to do so right across the territory and not just on an aggregate basis. That's something I know is important for colleagues to raise and he may have an opportunity to do so ... through an adjournment debate."

An EEA spokesman said complaints about "supposed cuts" were disappointing when the trust was actually avoiding any.

He added it was not making front-line staff redundant or closing ambulance stations "despite being required to save £50m over the next five years".

"We are recruiting more staff as well as working on improving response times and we are doing this by back office savings, introducing smarter working rotas and directing patients who don't need an ambulance response to more suitable treatment so that we are more available to the people whose lives depend on us."

Civic dinner binned as council serves up a public celebration of the arts

THE Labour-run administration at Harlow Council is to scrap the authority's annual civic dinner in favour of a public celebration of the town's thriving arts scene.

The inaugural Harlow Pride & Joy event will be staged at The Playhouse a week on Sunday (November 18) and will showcase the talents of local dance, music and performing arts groups.

As part of the town's 65th birthday celebrations, the show will include performances from Harlow Ballet School, dance group Hip Hop Pop, Harlow Steel Band and inclusive theatre company Razed Roof.

The 'paid ticket' event is open to all residents, councillors and dignitaries from Harlow and neighbouring towns. All proceeds will be donated to Accuro, a charity offering support to people with disabilities and providing breaks for carers and families.

It will be a direct replacement for the civic dinner, an invite-only black tie event for local council chiefs which cost the authority almost £4,000 last year. The event was boycotted by Labour councillors, who branded it a waste of taxpayers' money.

Council chairwoman Maggie Hulcoop said: "For my year as chair of the council I wanted an event which gives a platform for various community groups to perform, which raises money for my charity and which is open to members of the public."

"Harlow Pride & Joy will be an event which celebrates and promotes the very best of Harlow and will be full of entertaining performances that young and old alike will remember for a long time to come."

Boy, 13, in court

A BOY of 13 will stand trial next year accused of stealing a laptop, watches, jewellery and a Mercedes Benz car from a property in Canons Brook, Harlow, on August 6.

The youngster, who lives in Harlow, denied the offences when he appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday. He was remanded on bail.

Don't fall foul of winter flu

THE season of goodwill is fast approaching and now is the time to visit your GP for that all-important flu jab.

Every year about 25 million people seek medical attention for symptoms of flu, a number that could be drastically reduced if we all had a flu vaccination.

Flu can cause a variety of symptoms. They can be mild or severe depending on the type of virus, your age and overall health. Although it is a respiratory virus, flu can make you feel sick all over.

Symptoms can include any or all of the following: headache, high fever, chills, a sore throat, aching joints and/or a dry cough.

Every year the virus is slightly different and its severity is unpredictable. Thankfully for the majority of us, influenza is not a serious illness and we recover fully within one or two weeks. However, in some people complications develop leading to more serious illnesses.

How to fight flu

Get the flu vaccine. It's the best way to protect you, your family, friends and colleagues.

Wash your hands regularly. In addition to getting the flu vaccine, hand washing is an important line of defence against germs like flu viruses and the common cold.

Wash your hands after using the bathroom, after coughing or sneezing, before putting in or removing contact lenses, before using make-up and before eating, serving or preparing food.

Flu viruses travel through the air so try to move away from people if they are freely coughing or sneezing around you.

Stock up on Vitamin C. This to strengthen your immune system.

Avoid touching your nose, eyes, and mouth. These are the three places flu viruses can easily enter the body.

Stay home if you have the flu. If you have a hospital or GP appointment you should re-schedule. You can also fight the flu on a daily basis by keeping your immune system strong. Ensure you get enough sleep, eat healthy foods (including your 'five a day'), drink plenty of fluids and exercise frequently to keep your immune system in tip top shape.

The seasonal flu vaccination is highly recommended for people with heart problems, chest complaint or breathing difficulties (bronchitis, emphysema), kidney disease, lowered immunity from disease or treatment (steroid medication or cancer treatment), liver disease, stroke or a transient ischaemic attack (TIA), diabetes or a neurological condition such as multiple sclerosis or cerebral palsy.

It is also recommended if you are pregnant or are over the age of 65. Not only are you protecting yourself with the vaccine but also your family, friends and anyone you come into contact with over the festive period. Make sure you are not the one passing on the influenza virus this year. Simply call your GP to arrange your flu jab.

Break with tradition and add a little spice

WITH chicken tikka masala reportedly the most popular English dish in the UK, it's no wonder more and more of us are eschewing the turkey in favour of an Indian feast at Christmas. Many local restaurants offer special Christmas menus that cater not only for the Indian food lovers, but the more traditionalists too.

Why not add a little spice to your festive celebrations this year and book in to your local Indian restaurant? Don't stop there either! From fabulous Italian cuisine, to delicate Thai flavour and Chinese delights, who says you have to stick to the usual roast bird and all the trimmings? There are plenty of choices available.

You may have plans to visit your local pub over the festive season or you may be meeting friends there to enjoy a special Christmas menu - but have you thought about booking in for the big day itself?

Pubs can be counted upon to serve a traditional British Christmas meal with all the trimmings, and since many pubs are also the landlord's family home, the atmosphere is more intimate than you might experience elsewhere.

However, if you want a really special experience, then why not spoil yourself and check in to one of the many luxury venues we have in and around the area?

Fanhams Hall, Hanbury Manor, Down Hall, Manor of Groves and Great Hadham Golf Club are just a few great examples where you can enjoy some stylish festive fun.

To make it even easier, why not take a look at some of the best in the business on this page and leave Christmas to the experts.

Gothic revival is all fright on the night

IT was billed as more than just a play, and Harlow Theatre Company's immersive adaptation of Bram Stoker's gothic chiller certainly gave audiences plenty to sink their teeth into.

This was bold and inventive theatre at its very best, a spine-tingling feast for the senses that began the moment ticketholders dared walk through the door and into the nightmarish world of the Bedlam Asylum.

Greeted by blood-spattered orderlies, disoriented guests were ushered towards the "dispensary" to buy their drinks while zombie patients lurked in the shadows or glided across the dimly-lit bar area chanting nursery rhymes.

Genuinely unsettling, it was an ingenious way of spooking the audience while introducing madman-cum-narrator Renfield, the central character in playwright Liz Lochhead's hallucinatory adaptation.

Played with real menace by the impressively restrained Mitchell Rous, the paranoid schizophrenic is a former employee of the dastardly count himself. It is through his increasingly frazzled flashbacks that the story of Jonathan Harker's fateful trip to Transylvania is told.

With the action flitting between the asylum, Castle Dracula and Heartwood House – home to Lucy and Mina Westerman – Renfield is ever-present. It was testament to Rous's remarkable performance that he remained utterly captivating throughout, whether taking centre stage with a twisted soliloquy or sitting slumped in a straightjacket at the bar during the interval.

Equally memorable was Steve Hannam's powerhouse performance as Dracula, a role the former wrestler was surely born to play.

Physically intimidating yet emotionally fragile, Hannam's Count struck the perfect balance between man and monster, with flashes of humanity cutting through the malice and investing his character with magnetism as well as menace.

The script gave his adversaries less to work with, but Dan Thomas made the best of Jonathan Harker's limited role while Bernard Moule's Van Helsing injected new energy and urgency into the second act.

Pamela Self-Pierson gave a typically assured performance as beautiful bride-to-be Mina, whose transformation from prim propriety to lust-consumed deviant is brilliantly realised, while Lisa Gould also shone as the innocent young virgin corrupted by the sensual promise of the count's fatal kiss.

Equally vital to this most immersive of productions were the lighting, sound and set design, with the backstage crew's clever use of light and shade and an atmospheric musical score staying true to director Martin Colton's cinematic vision.

Without doubt one of the most ambitious productions ever staged at Victoria Hall, Dracula has raised the bar for am-dram in Harlow – and will have given all who dared watch a fright to remember.

Showcase for Leo's legacy

review

Collaborations
Harlow Ballet Association
The Playhouse, Harlow

DANCE and music have always made a glorious partnership, so this inspired programme was a fitting memorial to inspirational ballet teacher Leo Kersley.

The much-missed founder of Harlow Ballet loved the music of Gabriel Fauré, and so presenting the French composer's Requiem alongside imaginative and emotionally-charged dance was highly appropriate.

The deMerc Chamber Choir, conducted by Kate MacPherson and accompanied by Chris Redman, sang with passion and sensitivity, skilfully drawing out the light and shade that is vital to such a work.

The choir created a perfect arena for Michael Branwell's choreography, which gave dramatic physical interpretation to the seven parts of the work.

From the processional Indriot, through the joyous Sanctus and dramatic Libera Me to the final glory of In Paradisum, the cast connected perfectly with the changing moods to convey all the passion of the work.

Particular mention must go to Emily Bird, who made for an imposing and graceful Guardian Angel; to Roisin Kennedy for her impressive interpretation of the Pie Jesu (sung by soprano Isabel Galwey) and little angel Nadia Jones (12), whose face was a picture of joy as she was borne aloft on Stefan Donovan's shoulder at the very end.

This was a thoroughly engaging and moving performance, but let's not forget that the first half of the programme was given over to a series of 12 short ballets – several devised by the students themselves – which showcased the school's full range of talents.

From traditional ballet (the fairy solos from Sleeping Beauty) to modern movement (the urban angst of I Am Not Young Enough To Know Everything, choreographed by Justine McMahon), the dancers gave a dazzling display.

And in the cute Bonfire Night, choreographed by Claire Rees, there was the chance for even the tiniest of dancers to show off their moves.

Leo Kersley would be proud to know that his legacy lives on.

By CHRIS MOSS

ANARCHY rules at Moot Hall next week when am-dram group the Moot House Players present a riotous comedy featuring nursery rhyme favourite Old King Cole.

For the first production in their new season, the Players have turned to a hilarious work by acclaimed writer and performer Ken Campbell, one of the most unique theatre talents to come out of Essex.

The Ilford-born playwright, who died in 2008 at the age of 66, has been described as a one-man dynamo of British theatre – a writer, actor, director and comedian.

With his distinctive bald head, bushy eyebrows and pronounced "estuary" accent, he was a familiar character on British TV for years, most notably as Alf Garnett's neighbour Fred Johnson in the popular 1980s comedy In Sickness & In Health.

In Campbell's wildly surreal play, King

Cole (Jon McNamara) lives in Buckingham Palace with his consort Brenda (Joan Lanario) and their sweet, dippy daughter Daphne (Kerry Rowland), who is due to be married off to the winner of a sporting contest between stuffy Baron Wadd (Robbie Chittick) and heroic Cyril the Fiddler (Michael Reese).

The wacky event is stage-managed with stunning ineptitude by the Amazing Faz (Alan Hodgson) and his assistant, the dopey Twoo (Dan Powell), whose floor-skimming coat contains pockets overflowing with treats like day-glo lollypops and ice-cream cones. Wadd has offered Faz a bribe to fix the contest but somehow, despite elaborate cheating, things go just a bit wrong. In the meantime, Daphne has fallen for Twoo and the second half of the show concentrates on subverting the intended royal wedding with the aid of a gutted washing machine and a ton weight.

Directed by MHP stalwarts Geoff Leeds and Paul Regeli, Old King Cole is the Players' family show for the season and promises to be highly entertaining for everyone aged five upwards.

"Ken Campbell was a unique talent," said Paul. "He's been called a one-man whirlwind of comic and surreal performance and Sir Peter Hall described him as a total anarchist and impossible to pin down."

"Old King Cole is wonderfully silly but what really appeals to me is its ability to make both small children and their parents laugh at the same time."

● Old King Cole will be performed at Moot Hall in The Stow from next Thursday (November 15) to Saturday (November 17) at 7.45pm. Tickets cost £8 (£6 concessions) and are available from (01279) 639170.

Affleck at the helm of a real-life hostage drama

ARGO certificate 15, running time 2 hours

FICTION couldn't be any stranger than the truth in this gripping thriller about real-life events following the 1979 storming of the US embassy in Tehran.

Ben Affleck is a deserved front-runner for an Oscar as best director at next year's Academy Awards for his work on a film that keeps the audience on edge for its entire two hours.

Affleck has been a solid presence on screen for more than 30 years, but more recently it is behind the camera that he has truly excelled.

Here he works from a lean script by Chris Terrio, based on an article written by Joshua Bearman.

On November 4, 1979, simmering tensions outside the US embassy finally boil over and Iranian militants break through the barricades and storm the building.

Once inside they capture 52 Americans and hold them hostage, but six members of staff – Bob Anders (Tate Donovan), Joe Stafford (Scoot McNairy), Kathy Stafford (Kerry Bishe), Mark Lijek (Christopher Denham), Cora Lijek (Clea DuVall) and Lee Schatz (Rory Cochrane) – manage to escape to the nearby residence of the Canadian ambassador (Victor Garber). There they hide in a basement crawl space while awaiting news from the outside world.

Back on American soil, CIA extractor Tony Mendez (Affleck) concocts an elaborate scheme to rescue the escapees: he will pose as a film producer who has travelled to Iran to scout for locations for a sci-fi epic called Argo. The six stranded embassy staff will adopt the guise of his crew and they will leave the country together under false passports.

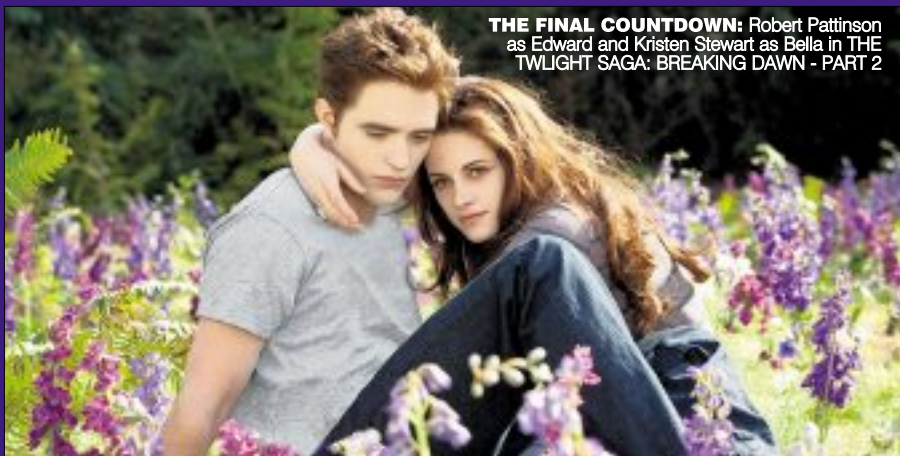

Bona fide Hollywood producer Lester Siegel (Alan Arkin) and make-up artist John Chambers (John Goodman) throw their weight behind Argo to give the plan credibility. But when Tony arrives on Iranian soil, he soon realises all of his smooth talking and experience might not be enough to save the embassy staff from an Iranian firing squad.

Argo holds the attention hostage in a vice-like grip and refuses to let go. Taut pacing, slick editing and escalating tension are underpinned by emotionally wrought performances from a sensational ensemble cast.

Arkin and Goodman provide the comic relief as the Hollywood veterans who realise they must spend serious money to create the illusion of a blockbuster in the making.

The nail-biting climax succumbs to dramatic licence, but by that point we forgive Affleck everything.

Enter the Twilight zone for 11-hour marathon

THE FINAL COUNTDOWN: Robert Pattinson as Edward and Kristen Stewart as Bella in THE TWILIGHT SAGA: BREAKING DAWN - PART 2

THE wait is almost over for fans of the Twilight Saga with the imminent release of Breaking Dawn - Part Two.

The final chapter opens at cinema next Friday (November 16), but on Thursday Harlow Cineworld will be screening all five films in a back-to-back marathon culminating in a midnight screening of the last instalment.

The Complete Twilight Saga starts at 2.50pm with Twilight (122 minutes), followed by The Twilight Saga: New Moon (131 minutes), The Twilight Saga: Eclipse (124 minutes), The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 1 (117 minutes) and finally The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 2 (115 minutes).

Tickets for the marathon, which is scheduled to end at 2.15am, cost £15.

With the help of her boyfriend Alex (Matt Shively), Alice rigs up cameras around her family home to spy on Robbie.

TAKEN 2 Bryan (Liam Neeson) continues to be protective of his daughter Kim (Maggie Grace), who he rescued from Albanian kidnappers and returned home safely to her mother Lenore (Famke Janssen). When Lenore's current partner storms out, Bryan suggests that his ex-wife and daughter join him in Turkey for a few days of sight-seeing and relaxation. But little does the former agent realise that Murad (Rade Serbedzija) – the father of one of the Albanian brutes he killed in the first film – has amassed a small army to extract revenge on him and his loved ones.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Any sluggishness you've been feeling can ease, and there is a lot to go for this week. With a stunning Solar Eclipse occurring in your sector of resources, but forging a fine link with Venus, the next six months can be a time of real progress around your finances, provided you are able to communicate well. Some kind of joint enterprise offers a clue of how. Call for more advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
If you would like to improve things around a relationship, there is a good prospect to do so, but your listening skills will be as important as anything else. Tuning into a partner's needs, or those you interact with, both at relating and practical level, can be beneficial. But the trick will be in not taking anyone for granted, so be ultra clear in what you say. Call me for your love scope in full...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Blending creativity with practicality is going to be the theme for the next six months, due to the influence of the week's Scorpio Solar Eclipse. However, to get a fairer deal on the household chores will promote harmony. Call for your love scope in full...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
You can get a burst of enthusiasm for a creative venture, but it may still require some revision. You may also be making some changes at home, perhaps even decoratively. With Mars also powering into your sector of relating, you can be feistier in your approach to all sorts of issues, and this can see you stand your ground, be more assertive and sparky. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Try not to bottle up any personal frustrations Leo. You can be one of the proudest members of the zodiac, but don't let the fear of others judging you stop you from showing any tenderness or vulnerability you may be feeling. If you do, you may feel that it can draw you close to your siblings or to anyone caring in your extended family. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Using your intellect, and skills of precision and communication, and anything to do with technology, teaching, training or people to people possibilities, can go really well in the next six months. But to maximize this, you will need to be mindful that not everyone you encounter will be as sharp eyed, sharp eared and well informed as you. Patience is key. Call for more advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
You might find yourself having to battle down the hatches on some costs. Yet even if in the short term money is tight, there are a lot of reasons to be positive this week. Why? Well, if you invest in your talent for spotting trends over the next six months, your individual take and flair can turn out to be a money spinner. So do follow your hunches Libra. Call for your financial scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
You may be still assessing your options, with some things absolutely brimming with possibilities, whilst others may seem to be taking an age to get going, or even ground to a halt. You should still focus on the strands that aren't working well, but equally, give yourself some credit for the things taking shape. Someone may also have a secret crush on you Scorpio. Call me for more advice...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Venus remains in the bubbliest and most sociable of chart sectors, but ironically, you might not be in the mood to party. But what you can do is forge really make this work, sentimental bonds with the people who really do care about you. You are definitely developing a quality over quantity outlook and mentality, as far as your circle of friends are concerned. Call now for more news...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
You might not always have thought of networking - be it social, local or business, was for you. But the chances are you are developing an appreciation of the benefits. And of course, sometimes things go awry and don't go exactly to plan. This may show itself with someone this week, but the bigger picture around expanding your circle remains exceptionally bright. Call for more astral advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
If money matters have seemed hazy the last five months or more, it wouldn't be a surprise. Yet you can achieve greater clarity now and push for some key hopes and ambitions. The suggestion is that there is going to be a lot more interaction with unusual people or situations, perhaps even cultures and people. Overseas links for work can emerge. Call me for your financial forecast in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
Love and loot both require a more imaginative approach. Whatever has served you well in the past, can still form a very large part of the experiences that guide you in your future. But if you can just allow for some new, fresh and innovative approaches to enter your situation, the next six months can prove very exciting. Short term, a contract or travel plan may have a glitch. Period charm for £629,950

STONE Cottage in Little Laver is a good example of one of those pretty period cottages we all admire as we drive past, hoping that one day they might come onto the market.

Beautifully presented and dating back to around 1493, the cottage is Grade II listed and is on the outskirts of the popular village of Matching Green.

It has three/four bedrooms and a wealth of delightful features such as structural timbers and studwork, fireplaces and log-burning stoves.

The house sits in a half-acre plot and has a recently constructed garage.

For full details, contact Wright and Co on (01279) 600400.

Why Sales Fail

Many estate agencies simply act as a broking service that matches people to property. However, we are acutely aware that there is far more to successful selling than this alone. Indeed, over 35% of property sales in this country fail to reach completion, falling through for various reasons.

One of the main reasons is that a buyer simply gets cold feet and withdraws as a result of buyer remorse. This is a familiar phenomenon to estate agents and occurs when a buyer feels overwhelmed by the apparent enormity of the decision to buy and takes the more comfortable low-risk option and does nothing.

Perhaps the buyer is offered another property which they prefer, or something else comes on the market that makes the price they have offered on your home look expensive.

Your buyer may lose their job, or get a promotion. They might decide to get married or divorced; they might inherit or win a fortune, or their business may be experiencing difficulties. They could even die!

Whilst these types of issues are generally unavoidable and naturally have a profound effect on people's decisions, the main problem concerns timing. Because offers in this country are not binding until exchange of contracts, the longer the time between offer and exchange, the greater the opportunity there is for the buyer or seller to decide to withdraw.

We go to great lengths to help you move, and work tirelessly to reduce this window of opportunity. That's why we allocate a dedicated sales progressor to every transaction, whose job it is to facilitate a fast exchange of contracts. This will include a focus on the buyer qualification process (if this has not already been done), although most time will be spent in helping other estate agents and solicitors involved in linked property sales as a chain is only as strong as its weakest link. Our aim is that your link should be the strongest.

Spider might!

Find 1000s of cars locally
.co.uk

By Matt Joy

PARIS was stolen by the Brits in 2012. The home team might have been out in force but it was McLaren's P1 – the first glimpse of its flagship supercar – that drew the biggest motorshow crowds.

But there was another new car sharing the stand, the MP4-12C Spider. An obvious second act to follow the coupe version, the Spider swooped in with the promise of the same blockbusting performance and handling but added fresh air.

The Spider doesn't have any of the compromises you normally get when switching from coupe to drop-top. The super-strong and light carbon chassis was designed from the outset to be turned into a drop-top, so creating the Spider required no chassis strengthening at all.

That meant unchanged suspension, too, which is almost unheard of, and the weight increase is negligible – just 40kg accounting for the roof mechanism and a different exhaust.

In fact, when getting your first glimpse of the Spider it's actually quite easy to mistake it for the coupe. The Spider has a two-piece composite roof that will fold in less than 17 seconds and at speeds up to 19mph.

Remarkably it actually offers more luggage space than the coupe thanks to a pair of roll-up bags that stow beneath

Fact File

McLaren MP4-12C Spider

£195,000

ENGINE: 3.8-litre petrol producing 616bhp
TRANSMISSION: 7-speed dual clutch gearbox driving rear wheels
PERFORMANCE: Top speed 204mph, 0-62mph in 3.1 secs
ECONOMY: 24.2mpg combined
CO<sub>2</sub> RATING: 279g/km

the tonneau cover when the roof is up. There's also a heated rear window that acts as a wind deflector with the roof down, but can also be lowered with the roof up to allow the engine sound into the car.

In a way that small detail tells you a lot about the Spider experience; it is a car prepared and able to suit any circumstances.

Assuming you approach the car with the roof up, you now squeeze a discreet rubber button to open the door as it glides upwards into position. Slide yourself into the slim but comfortable seats and you feel at the centre of the action.

The windscreen drops down low to give a superb view out while the wheel and the instruments sit proud of the dashboard top, giving an uncluttered driving environment.

Fire it up and with everything turned down to its friendliest settings, the Spider demands very little of you indeed. Press the D button to engage the gearbox and a slight squeeze of the accelerator releases the auto handbrake and you're away.

You have the same Active Dynamics panel controlling handling and powertrain so you can tailor the car to the circumstances. With everything in 'Normal' there's nothing to tell you you're in the Spider: it's just as fast, as compliant, as quiet and as accommodating as the coupe.

Drop the roof and it changes completely – wind is kept well in check below silly speeds and that super-strong carbon structure means not one hint of shake or wobble over bumps. This is how all convertibles would be in an ideal world. Don't waste a single opportunity to turn everything up, though. The intermediate 'Sport' mode offers an excellent balance for fast road driving, leaning off the ESC a little bit to allow some movement in the car while the extra noise and sharper responses from the engine are welcome.

You can use 'Track' mode on the road, of course, but then you are in control of all 616bhp (an upgraded output over 2012 model year).

Such is the linearity of the twin-turbo V8s delivery that it is deceptively fast. An extended blast through first, second and third gears feels mighty fast but the speedometer tells an even more remarkable story: it will hit 124mph from rest in just 9.0 seconds with the grippier Corsa tyre option.

It's best experienced with the rear window down as you get all the noise, resonating around the roof and no wind intrusion whatsoever. Despite being turbocharged, it does its best work with a few thousand revs on the dial, but the performance is savage in bald stats yet silken in delivery.

Even so, it is arguably the ride and handling combination that is more impressive. The Active Roll Control system is tech-heavy but all you need to know is that it allows the Spider to skim over bumps in a way that no performance car has ever done, yet it doesn't compromise an inch in the way it grips and resists roll.

The test drive included track time as well as a mixture of Spanish roads, and its ability to deal with such a wide variety of surfaces was remarkable. If anything, the optional Corsa tyre's extra grip isn't necessary: on the road the grip levels are stratospheric and on track it's a pleasure to flirt with the edge of adhesion and feel the Spider move around.

The philosophy behind the MP4-12C Spider is clear to see and its adaptability and immense competence is remarkable. The Spider is essentially the class swot: so good at everything you want to dislike it, but you can't help but have huge respect for its flawless execution.

Scrap

End of the road
for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Teamwork and the sharing of ideas is a key feature of the Department.

The school places a strong emphasis on staff development and the appointed candidate can expect to gain significant enjoyment and professional fulfilment from working here.

The Star looks back at career of 1922 World Champ who called Harlow home

By ALAN SCOTT
Sports Editor
alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE Olympics captured the imagination of the British public last summer, but did you know that Harlow was home to one of the country's most famous cycling champions.

Dave Marsh competed at, not only the 1924 and 1928 Games, but was also the first Brit to capture the World Championship?

Marsh was so famous – they even named a bike after him?

Even to this day his son – also a top British cyclist in his day – still lives in Harlow.

They live in Holly Field.

Marsh (the first) was the first British winner of the World Road Race Championship for amateurs.

He scooped this title way back in 1922, defeating the world's very best cyclists over a daunting 100-mile circuit.

His achievement at the World Championships was not equalled by an Englishman for more than 40 years until Tom Simpson won the title at San Sebastian in Spain in 1965.

In 1924 Marsh competed at the Olympic Games in Paris and then four years later he took part in the Games in Amsterdam.

But his greatest feat was winning the World Championship time trial.

This was held just outside Shrewsbury in Shropshire as cyclists competed on the famous Anfield course, the Mecca of the British cycling club world at this time.

He won the race by an astonishing 1 minute and 20 seconds and completed the gruelling 100 miles in a top time of 5 hours, 7 minutes and 27 seconds.

His son, also David, 85, spoke to the Star about his father's exploits.

He said: "It meant a great deal to him. He was a very, very quiet man. He never told anybody about all of this.

"It was a very similar time to now as the English were dominating."

To prepare for this race he could regularly be seen racing around the country lanes of Dunmow twice a week in the evenings and even ventured up to Cambridge and back to London (about 50 miles each way).

It was his third attempt to win an international title in three years, a time during which he proved to be the finest roadman in the country.

This was only the second time the World Championships had been staged. The previous year Marsh had competed in the Danish capital Copenhagen, finishing 12th.

Previously he came to the fore in 1919 when he secured his first win in an open competition.

A year later he won six major events, including the first North Road CC Memorial 50.

This standard of riding won him a place in the 1924 Olympics road race which was actually held in Antwerp, Belgium.

However, he hit trouble and could only finish 26th.

But his team, Shaftesbury CC, dominated at this time and Marsh had helped them to eight victories in

GB cyclist so famous – they named a bike after him!

PEDAL POWER: David Marsh (the first) in action during his successful career (HSP0866028). Marsh, far right, is pictured with the successful Great Britain team at the 1922 World Championships 1920, followed by another fine season in 1921.

In 1922, as a member of the University CC, Marsh's team broke the London to Brighton and back record.

It was during this time that Marsh reached his peak with his epic world-beating performance.

When you see some of the giants in cycling today, such as Bradley Wiggins and Mark Cavendish, it seems incredible that Marsh was only 5ft 1in.

Marsh, who was born in East London, spent most of his working life at London's docks, but took up cycling professionally in the late 1920s when it switched from being an amateur sport.

Ariel Cycles approached him in 1929 and he helped design a bike that was named in his honour.

In an interview with Sporting Cyclist magazine a few short months before he died in 1960 he explained his passion for cycling. "There are few things finer in cycling than the sight of a good pursuit team going flat out, each man working as a part of the team," he explained.

"There's something satisfying, too, in riding to catch an opponent on the other side of the track. Yes, I definitely like pursuing best of all."

His daughter-in-law Dorothy Marsh, 85, said: "He would have gone a lot further but he was such a modest man. Being a small man he needed the handlebars to be shorter and they [Ariel] made those especially for him."

These were called the Marsh Bars and revolutionised the bike industry as bicycles were fitted with these new handlebars which benefitted the smaller cyclists.

Marsh, who was born in 1895, lived in The Hornbeams in Harlow throughout the 1950s.

His enthusiasm for cycling lives on and his grandson, also called David, has also excelled at the sport.

He was third in the British National Championships in 1977.

Meanwhile, Marsh (the first's) wife Flo was a founder member of the famous Rosslyn Ladies Club.

Marsh's son David added: "All the family race. I feel very proud. He was one of the greatest."

Gymnasts hoping for Essex places

UP to three Harlow gymnasts may be in action for the Essex county team later this month.

Naomi Harryman (14) and Robyn Power (13) have been picked for a competition in Ipswich, Suffolk, while Lowen Hall (13) has been chosen as a reserve. Naomi and Bethany Harryman (12), Hall, Power and Joanne Barylski (13) scooped the silver medal in the level 3 Essex county team competition in Colchester.

Four of them were also in the top four in the individual apparatus disciplines.

Their results were: Naomi (1st on floor), Hall (4th on beam), Barylski (3rd on vault) and Power (4th bars and floor). Harlow's level 5 team of Rosie Bennett (10), Charlotte Brough (10), Nancy-May McCara (10), Ellie Beckers (10) and Abbey Taylor (11) were 8th.

At the Colchester level 7 invitational individual competitions, Dharja Cunningham (7), Natalya Wade (7) and Liberty Miller (7) finished in 13th, 15th and 17th place respectively. In a recreational county floor and vault competition at Harlow Gymnastics Club, Poppy Charles gained a bronze medal after securing 3rd place on the vault in the 10-11 years competition.

In the age 8-9 contest, Milly McSweeney, left, took bronze.

Other results at the recreational county floor and vault competition were: 10-11 years, Rebecca Porter (11) 4th vault, 19th overall and Jasmine Attridge (10) 13th; 8-9 years, Charlotte Charles (8) 16th and Brooke Walker (8) 28th.

Hawks put end to losing streak

CHESHUNT 1, HARLOW TN 2 RYMAN LEAGUE, DIV ONE NORTH

CHARACTER was shown by the Hawks as they shrugged off three successive defeats to pick up an excellent win at close neighbours Cheshunt.

Saturday's victory at Theobalds Lane also wiped away the memory of their 8-1 defeat to Colchester United in the Essex Senior Cup four days earlier.

Chapman said: "It was a much needed win and thoroughly deserved. Piers Wixon and Jeff Hammond caused their back four lots of problems."

Harlow, without the suspended midfielder Hector Mackie, went ahead on 10 minutes.

Wixon was fouled in the box by Andrew West who escaped with just a caution.

The ref pointed to the spot and Wixon's initial effort was parried by Ambers keeper Glenn Williamson before the striker tucked in the rebound.

Chapman said: "I thought their player was lucky to stay on the pitch. He should have gone."

Five minutes later a Harlow corner was headed against his own post by Danny Gudgeon and then scrambled away for another corner.

At the other end, Lee Brennan blazed over the bar from eight yards.

Jake Cass almost doubled Harlow's lead on 41 minutes but his effort was tipped onto the bar by Williamson.

Chapman commented: "A few words were said at half-time. We did not have a lot of the ball in the first half and despite being 1-0 up I do not think we played that well."

Williamson thwarted Harlow with fine saves to deny Wixon and Thomas Davie on 47 and 61 minutes.

Jeff Hammond then made it 2-0 on 79 minutes when he rounded Williamson and finished neatly.

Top win for U-16s

HARLOW Rugby Club's Under-16 team enjoyed an excellent 17-7 home win against Welwyn on Sunday.

Young Rams number eight Jack Christy powered his way over the line for the first try.

Second row Adam Seeley picked up a loose ball for Harlow's second try.

A powerful run and try from prop Shakur Dixon-Chennis was the icing on the cake.

Alfie Clark scored one conversion.

Dux driven quackers as Hawks secure first victory

HARLOW HAWKS 74, AYLESBURY DUX 65 HERTS BASKETBALL LEAGUE, DIV ONE

THERE was the odd glitch but Harlow Hawks did enough to secure their first league win of the season when they beat newly-promoted Aylesbury Dux at home.

The hosts started well in Friday's clash at the Leisurezone, taking a 6-0 lead in the first three minutes.

Hawks then conceded silly fouls and had a barren spell midway through the quarter where they missed a number of opportunities to increase their lead.

However, a strong finish to the quarter from the Hawks saw Rimantas Norkeliunas and Roan Lenihan add 11 points in the last two minutes, putting the hosts 18-11 ahead.

Norkeliunas continued to do the damage on the inside with his tireless work ethic and Hawks led 37-25 at the halfway stage.

The third period saw both teams trade baskets and Russ Allan finished off a couple of plays, while Shab Niaz hit back-to-back three-pointers.

A late 6-0 run for the Dux in the last minute of the period saw them reduce the Hawks' lead to 12 points (53-41) going into the last quarter.

Nick Moss and Zaf Niaz combined for eight of the Hawks' first 11 points but they continued to give away cheap fouls.

Aylesbury sensed time was running out and increased the tempo, causing the Hawks problems as they reduced the deficit to just three points and put themselves right back in the contest.

With two minutes remaining Moss sunk a pair of free throws to steady the ship.

The Hawks missed nine out of 15 attempts in the last two minutes, but had done enough to win.

HARLOW HAWKS: Norkeliunas (16pts), Lenihan (10), Allan (9), S. Niaz (9), Spashett (8), Stonehouse (8), Moss (8), Z. Niaz (4), Burgess (2).

Tennant's extra marathon effort seals vet prize

JOHN Tennant was the first Harlow Running Club member to finish in a very wet and undulating Stevenage Half Marathon on Sunday morning.

Tennant was 62nd out of 446 finishers and won the first veteran 60 prize in an excellent time of 1 hour, 35 minutes and 38 seconds.

He was followed home by Vicky Steadman (118th in 1:42.08), Janice Page (218th in 1:50.19), Frank Heinen (289th in 1:56.27) and David Page (292th in 1:56.32).

At the Billericay 10K, Harlow's Jamie Jephcott finished in 45th position out of 562 finishers in a superb time of 41.11 and son Daniel was 89th in 43.58.

At the Lactic Fallout Adventure Race held at the Secret Nuclear Bunker near Ongar, Paula Reynolds finished in 61st place out of more than 500 finishers in 1:36.51.

She was followed home by William Wall (65th in 1:36.52) and Sean Flynn (160th in 1:52.58).

This was run over an eight-mile course with lots of mud, water and several challenging obstacles.

HARLOW TN: Bossu, Conway, Cramer, O'Donoghue, Ibrahim, Mugno, Cass, Davie (Brown 84), Hammond, Wixon, Bowes (Deaney 58). Subs not used: Gill, Tamai.

No six appeal for defeated Harlow Ladies

HARLOW 1, PHOENIX 6
ESSEX WOMEN'S HOCKEY LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

HARLOW Ladies slumped to a heavy defeat when they were thrashed at home by lowly Phoenix.

The Braintree-based club have played in a higher league, but had won only one game this season before Saturday's clash.

Phoenix went ahead in the 18th minute before Harlow equalised six minutes later through a strong shot from Jemma Smith.

The visitors restored their lead just before the break with a close-range strike.

In the second half a combination of excellent play from Phoenix and Harlow not playing particularly well, resulted in four more goals turning this into a rout.

At the other end, Carolyn Welsford and Emma Tweddle linked up well to apply pressure on the Phoenix defence and their goalkeeper who made some fantastic saves.

Harlow are seventh in the 12-team table.

HARLOW: Rowley, Ferdinando, Smith, Tweddle, Trimble, Attack, Turner, Welsford, Chambers, Shearman, Hanson, Alderson. East Men's Hockey League div 4SE result: Maldon & Little Baddow 8, Harlow 0.

Saturday. It was his first game since he broke an ankle last year. Joe O'Donoghue had said he [Konway] wanted to play a decent standard of football and Sam had something about him."

Meanwhile, the loan period of midfielder Tom Davie from npower League 2 club Dagenham & Redbridge has been extended by a month.

"I do not like having loan players but I have had to with the position we have been in [with injuries]," confessed Chapman.

"Normally it does not hurt loan players if you lose, but it hurts Tom. We are really pleased with him," said the Hawks boss.

"He has scored three goals and has gelled with the rest of the boys. He is technically ahead of the level we are."

Kids shine at English Champs

THE boys Under-13 team from Harlow Athletic Club performed creditably at the England Relay Cross Country Championships at Mansfield in Nottinghamshire.

They came 44th from 80 teams in Saturday's 3x2km race.

On leg one, Lewis Harknett clocked 7 minutes and 45.40 seconds to come home in 28th spot before his twin brother Owen Harknett completed the course in 8:21.60 handing over to Christian Barker in 40th spot. Barker clocked 8:24.20 and finished 44th.

Harlow could have finished higher, but for a hold-up when a marshal apparently stopped Owen Harknett from starting even though Lewis Harknett had passed by the required spot, costing 20 seconds.

Meanwhile, the three-strong Harlow AC U-15 girls' team came 77th from 114 starting teams, of which 96 completed the 3x2km race.

Katie Templeton-Knight clocked 9.12 as Harlow were 103rd. On leg two, Megan Price (8.54) overtook 13 runners to move the team up to 90th. Elise Walker shrugged off an ankle injury and clocked 9.19 for 77th.

Late penalty hurts Rams

THE Rams need to swiftly turn close defeats into wins if they are to avoid the drop.

Harlow led by 13-0 at one stage at home against Wanstead five days ago before the visitors' greater strength up front told and they triumphed by just one point in an extremely tight match.

It was the fourth time in seven matches this season that the Rams had lost by fewer than seven points.

Although this earned them a bonus point they will need more than this scrap in future matches if they are to climb the table.

Harlow dominated the opening quarter of an hour against Wanstead. But they needed the boot of fly-half Dan Smith to put them ahead from a 15th-minute penalty.

Wanstead worked very well to attack with their backs, but Harlow defended strongly.

The hosts increased their lead on the half-hour mark.

A good break by the Harlow backs saw

RFU LONDON & SE, DIVISION THREE NORTH EAST

play held up just short of the try line but the ball came out for Rhys Powell to make a good break and touch down.

The conversion was missed so Harlow led 8-0 at the break.

From the restart it became clear that the Rams pack were going to find it hard to secure quality ball.

They were being pushed back in the set scrums, making it more difficult for Powell and Smith to launch attacks.

However, the Rams extended their lead with a very well-taken try against the run of play.

Rob Mackie broke into the visitors' 22 before offloading to Josh Drake on the Harlow wing who sprinted in for a try on 50 minutes. The conversion was missed (13-0).

Wanstead replied with a penalty and cut the hosts lead further with a converted pushover try.

Smith then kicked a long-range penalty to extend the Harlow lead to 16-10 on 65 minutes.

Almost immediately from the restart, Wanstead gained a scrum close to the home line. This led to their second pushover try, which was again converted to put them ahead (16-17).

Harlow's hopes were briefly raised as Michael Dobson kicked a long-range drop kick for Harlow on 70 minutes.

But Wanstead scored a 75th-minute penalty to snatch victory.

Rams senior coach Lee Harron said: "We did not take two or three opportunities in the first half and that came back to bite us. Last year we were winning games by five or ten points in the last few minutes whereas we are now losing them but all is not doom and gloom. We are getting better."

HARLOW: Mackie, Feasey, Fricker, Dobson, Drake, Smith, Powell, Cunningham (Ephgrave 38), Bolt, Stonehouse, Unwin, Twiner, Roberts, James, Eynon. Subs not used: Clark, Woodington.

Forget chit Chat – lift home gloom!

THE miserable home form of Harlow Town continued as they slipped to a disappointing home defeat against Chatham Town, writes DAVID RIMMER.

The Kent side were no great shakes on Tuesday night and simply took advantage of Hawks' defensive errors.

As in previous games at Barrows Farm this season, Harlow lacked the guile and class although an ever changing teamsheet does not help.

The Hawks must surely be thinking about getting their ground blessed with holy water and exorcise this pitch – they have lost six out of seven home league games this term, not forgetting the Barrows Farm losses in both the FA Cup and FA Trophy!

The stadium has not been a fortress but more a crumbling

HARLOW TOWN 1, CHATHAM TN 2
RYMAN LEAGUE, DIVISION ONE NORTH

edifice and Harlow also did not win there enough times over the last two seasons.

Hawks assistant manager Paul West-Hook said: "It was disappointing. It was a good chance for us to get a second win on the bounce for the first time this season.

"We had most of the possession, but did not pass well although we did enough to get something out of it."

Harlow included on-loan Daggers central defender Andrew Burns for his debut.

Central midfielder Hector Mackie returned after serving a one-game ban.

Chatham went ahead in the very first minute.

Slack defending saw Ryan Laker cross from the right. Home keeper Bertrand Bossu rushed out but was in no man's land as Harry Smith headed over the Frenchman and into the empty goal.

West-Hook said: "I do not know what Bert was doing. It gives other teams a lift when they score so early."

Chatham looked dangerous on the break, but the Hawks fashioned more openings although they failed to threaten from any of their nine corners in the first period.

After Hawks right-back Sam Konway came close after the break, the hosts levelled on 55 minutes when Hector Mackie fired in a sublime 25-yard free-kick from the right which beat Chatham keeper Tim Roberts at the near post.

Harlow were lifted, but conceded a cheap goal on 74 minutes. Konway was under no pressure when he turned a cross away for a corner, from which the unmarked Kes Mettiti noddled in off a post.

West-Hook fumed: "Someone had to take responsibility for that area and nobody did. You cannot expect to give goals away that at this level of football and get away with it." Hawks' late pressure saw substitute Gary Bowes nod just wide on 82 minutes, but the inspiration was absent.

HARLOW TN: Bossu 5, Konway 6 (Ibrahim 80), Cranmer 5, O'Donoghue 7, Burns 6, Muguo 7, Davies 6 (Bowes 72), Mackie 6, Hammond 6, Wixon 6, Cass 5. Subs not used: Gill, Brown, Tamai.

In reply, Kieran Gleeson hit a hat-trick and Karl Hills also scored.

Silver medal for rising star

RISING badminton star Louis Bowman is continuing to make progress and is celebrating winning a silver medal at a tournament in Essex.

The 14-year-old Harlow Badminton Club member was runner-up in the Forza 2* tournament held in Leigh-on-Sea.

He came second in the singles and third in the doubles with club-mate Greg Tye.

In the singles, Bowman won the first group stage by beating three others of the same age. The scores were 21-18, 21-5 and 21-14.

In the semi-finals, he won 21-5 but lost 21-14 in the final.

In the doubles, Bowman and Tye (a Year 10 student at St Mark's School in Harlow) won their first three games 21-18, 21-18 and 20-21.

However, the boys lost in their box by one point so were knocked out in the semi-finals.

Signing of Burns lights up Chapman

THE Hawks have completed the loan signing of Dagenham & Redbridge central defender Andrew Burns.

His arrival took Harlow Town boss Danny Chapman's acquisitions to three in the space of a few days. Chapman had already signed defender Jake Young and right-back Sam Conway (see right).

The Hawks wrapped up a loan deal with Daggers for 20-year-old defender Burns on Monday and he played in the 2-1 loss to Chatham Town in Ryman division one north on Tuesday (see page 83).

Burns can play anywhere across the defence or in central midfield.

He started his career at Bolton Wanderers before signing for the Daggers and has been on loan at Kettering Town this season.

Chapman said: "John Still [Dagenham boss] said Andrew is a very good player and it is only a matter of time before he gets into the first team squad.

"He has good positional strength and is very comfortable on the ball. Everybody speaks highly of him."

In a busy autumn for Chapman, Harlow has now signed six, including former Millwall winger Gary Bowes, centre-half Amin Ibrahim, plus midfielders Hector Mackie (from St Albans City) and Tom Davie (on loan from League 2 Dagenham).

Going the other way is right winger Joshua Cooper who has left after just six weeks at the club.

Centre-half Danny Brown could make his first start for two months away to Thamesmead Town.

Midfielder Albert Levitt (hip) is out a further fortnight, while centre-half Liam Thomas has had an injection in his groin and could be available soon.

Brother of QPR ace in Hawks switch

OH BROTHER: The younger sibling of former Spurs and Aston Villa star Luke Young, right, Jake Young, has signed for Hawks (PA)

DANNY Chapman has swooped for the younger brother of former Spurs defender Luke Young.

The Harlow Town boss signed 18-year-old right-back Jake Young.

Former England international Luke is now at QPR.

The experienced former Spurs and Aston Villa right-back is a former pupil at Harlow's Mark Hall School.

Jake signed forms last week but the Hawks have been awaiting international clearance from the FA as his last club was in Australia.

This clearance came through on Friday, but he received a red card in one of his last games in Australia and must serve a four-match ban, so he will not be available for selection until Harlow's home fixture against Ilford on Saturday

November 17.

He was previously part of the West Ham United Academy.

Chapman said: "He is very comfortable on the ball. He is only young, but has a good size and he fits the bill.

"He has been training with us for two or three weeks. Once he is available he will come in."

Meanwhile, Chapman's search for a full-back to boost his squad ended with the capture of ex-Leyton Orient player Sam Conway.

The 18-year-old right-back was released from the npower League 1 club at the end of last season and signed for Hawks last week.

He made his Harlow debut in the 2-1 Ryman League division one north win at Cheshunt on Saturday.

Chapman said: "He did well for us on >> Cont'd on page 83

Everybody's gonna be kung fu fighting!

MARTIAL artists with more than 170 years' experience of teaching in Harlow will come together for a pioneering event to attract new recruits.

Six different clubs with instructors who have backgrounds in judo, karate and tae kwon do, will be at Passmores Academy in Traces Road this Saturday for a free day of classes.

The concept, believed to be the first time such an event has been held in Harlow, has come on the back of the success of the Olympics as these local clubs seek to boost their memberships.

Among those offering tips and advice on the day is Mick Ellis, who runs Harlow Judo Club. He has been training for 52 years and has been an instructor for more than 30 years.

Nick Jeffery, of Shoto Karate Club, has been training for more than 40 years, while Dave Rintoul, of Jiu Jitsu, has notched up 28 years of training.

Ian Gill, of Lau Gar Kung Fu, has more than 20 years in the sport.

Harlow Tae Kwon Do chief Mick Sullivan has chalked up 12 years of training, while Mark Solomon (United Kingdom Wing Chun Kung Fu) has 21 years of training, including 10 as a 'Sifu' (teacher).

Co-organiser Claire Lomax explained: "The main idea behind the day is to offer free access to the general public so they can see demonstrations of what each club does.

"We hope to improve the understanding of martial arts and in the afterglow of the Olympics gain new members for our clubs.

"We would also like to help improve the health and feeling of safety of the Harlow area."

Demonstrations will take place in the gym and theatre.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon is opening the event which starts at 10am and finishes at 4pm.
